

Gary Wick:

For many years Gary Wick has been performing his fun and unique comedy ventriloquism show on cruise ships and at corporate events and fairs and festivals throughout the country. With sound effects, a great sense of humor, unique characters, and exceptional skill, Gary can entertain virtually all ages and make everyone laugh and have a good time.

Gary has performed for hundreds of large and small corporations, national conventions, cruise ships, fairs and festivals, theme parks, colleges, and comedy clubs. He has been a feature act with national comedians and entertainers such as Marie Osmond, Gary Lewis & the Playboys, REO Speedwagon, Kenny Chesney, Jeff Carson, Lisa Brokop, Neil Sedaka, and many others. He and his characters have appeared on numerous TV and radio commercials. Twice, he was voted as a finalist in Showtime's Funniest Person in America Competition.

From early on in his career he had learned to perform clean comedy when agents had put him on the road for a year to perform for schools and fairs. Yes, he can perform for audiences with kids sitting in the front row and no one has to worry about the language or topic getting “salty.” His comedy is a mix of fast, funny one-liners, contemporary social observations, sight gags, impressions and incredible vocal sound effects. The illusion that Gary creates on stage with his ventriloquism and puppet characters is so strong that the audience soon forgets that Gary is the voice and they put all of their attention on Clarence Duck and The Old Man.
